

DISCLAIMER

1. Limitation of Liability

Contents of this Website

The contents of this website were created with the highest possible degree of accuracy. However, the provider will not be liable for the correctness, completeness and up-to-dateness of the contents provided. Utilization of the retrievable contents will be at the risk of the user. Contributions attributable to specific persons represent the opinion of the respective author and do not reflect the opinions of the provider.

Website Availability

The provider will endeavour to supply the services in a non-interrupted manner, if possible. However, notwithstanding all care taken, the possibility of downtimes can't be excluded. The provider reserves the right to alter or terminate the offer any time.

External Links

This website contains links to third-party websites (external links). These websites are the responsibilities of the respective operators. During initial connection of the external links, the provider examined the third-party contents to make sure there are no violations of applicable laws. At that time, no violations of applicable laws were present. The provider has no influence on the current and future design and contents of the linked sites. The insertion of external links does not mean that the provider claims the contents relating to the reference or link as proprietary. In the absence of clear evidence on violations of applicable law, continuous monitoring of possible violations of applicable law are not deemed appropriate. If such violations become known, however, external links of that kind will be removed immediately.

Advertisements

The respective authors will be responsible for the contents of advertisements and the respective websites. The presentation of the advertisement does not constitute acceptance by the provider.

No Contractual Relationship

Utilization of the provider's website does not equal constitution of a contract between the user and the provider. Therefore, there will be no contractual or semi-contractual claims against the provider. But in case that the utilization of the website will result in a contractual relationship, the following limitation of liability will become valid on a provisional basis: The provider will be held liable for deliberate and grossly negligent behaviour and for violations of essential contractual duties (cardinal duty). Limited to liability for damages foreseeable at the time of the conclusion of the contract, the provider will be held liable for damages that are caused by slightly negligent behaviour of cardinal duties by this party or one of its legal representatives or vicarious agents. The provider will not be liable in cases of slight negligence of secondary obligations that are not cardinal duties. The liability for damages that are within the scope of the guarantees or warranties given by the provider and the liability for claims due to the applicable laws for product liabilities and harm to life, body and health will not be affected by this.

2. Copyright

The contents and components published on this website are protected by copyright. All utilizations not permitted under German copyright law will require the prior written approval of the author or originator. This is especially valid for the duplication, editing, translation, storage, processing or representation of contents in data bases and other electronic media and systems. Third-party contents and contributions are marked as such.

Non-permitted duplication and transfer of specific contents or entire pages is not permitted and will be liable to persecution. The creation of copies and downloads for personal, private and non-commercial usage is an exception and will be permitted. Links referring to the provider website are encouraged at any time and do not require the approval from the provider of the website. The presentation of this website in external frames will require approval.

3. Privacy

A visit of the provider website might result in the storing of access information (date, time, page viewed) on the server. This data is anonymised and will not be regarded as part of the personal data. This data will be evaluated for statistical purposes only. It will not be made available to third parties for commercial or non-commercial purposes alike. Moreover, data can be stored on the computers of the website users. This data is called "cookies" and its purpose is to facilitate the user's website access.

However, the user can disable this feature from the respective web browser. In this case, the operability of our website might be impacted. The provider stresses explicitly that data transmission on the Internet (e.g. email communications) is vulnerable and it is not possible to prevent all access through third parties. The usage of the contact data of the provider identification - especially the telephone/fax number and email address - for commercial advertising is explicitly not desirable unless prior written approval from the provider has been given or there is already an existing business contact. The provider and all persons mentioned on this website hereby disapprove of all commercial usage and transfer of data pertaining to them.

4. Applicable Law

The solely applicable legal provisions are those within the scope of the law of the Federal Republic of Germany.
